Hi Sue,

You are correct as far as I know. If PSNH owns the poles then I would assume they would need to keep them free of signs. I certainly see poles covered with millions of staples from years of people posting stuff on them.

I have taken a few signs off of poles if I can reach them. There is one at Mammoth & South Road that is too far up. I'll check into this for you.

Hi-

I thought I sent this already..guess not. So..back when Public Service was around, the telephone poles were their property and signs were not allowed. So... I was curious if its the same ?? People put paper signs up, like lost dog or cat. But.. time goes by, even if the animal came back or not, they don't seem to ever take down the signs.

Hi Sue,
I was thinking since the signs are randomly put up, they can be randomly taken down. Can I sick you on Mosquito Joe? I've called them & hope they taper off soon.

Thanks for you help!

Hi-

Was wondering what u thought of the "lost dog" signs on the telephone poles, They have been up 2 weeks or so, as my dad would say, most likely a coyote or bob cat got it. So.. if it's ok, I will take some down, at no charge !!!??

Hi-

Just checking in... :) I did get brave and called that Ashley's furniture place. I always say I assist the code enforcer. You may have gotten some of their signs.. I thought some were gone when I planned on getting them. But I did get a bunch of them, since they replaced the ones I took !!!

Hi-

is it possible to check on the lighting at that "blue cat", or something close to that name !! The blue lighting is bad !!! Good about the signage, in front of my church, the date for fall cleanup.

Hi-

Haven't bugged u in a while !! I've been taking down outdated yard sale signs...imagine that !!

I just left a message with DeFransesco {sp} saying i was the assistant to u. Most importantly that they can only have the sign in front of the place they r working on while they r there !!!

one on North Mammoth !! Are signs ok on church property ?? Also did two more, one on a lost cat that was old and folded over !!

Hi sue

It surely is sign season! I went up by the airport on Pettengill, R.Weiczorek & Executive. Filled up the back of my car!! I appreciate any help I can get.

Thanks

Hi !!

So... I've done a few signs, knowing the rules on the ones that are left on a lawn, after their service is done. Again, just making contact with you !!

Hi Sue,

While I appreciate your telling me about signs, I would prefer that you not remove any more. This incident with the PFAS signs is a reminder of why it is best for me

& this office to handle all signs. You should not state you are representing the Town or the Building Dept going forward.

Thanks, however, for your good intentions.

Could u please give me Norma's email and phone extension !! My heart is pounding, I do take down signs with her permission. I did one just now, called them to ask them not to do more, the man raised his voice at me !! he said
"we r not done with this".....

Hi-

At the resealing place for tar in the old station 2 is one of those "blow up" people run by a generator that waves all about. It's very near 102.

I remember when there were 2 on the roof of the 99, I emailed Libby's hubby and down it came !!! It's making me ill !!!!
